COMMENT by the EDITOR

ABOUT CHANGING A NAME

Well, now we've gone and done it! Changed the name of our paper to the RICHMOND PROGRESS.

No blaring of horns, no celebration extraordinary, no publicity such as those with which Senator Joe Doyle of Arkansaw astounded his fellow U. S. Senators when he delivered his vehement "flea bitten dog" masterpiece of alarm and invection.

While we make the change we hearken back to the days when Lee D. Windsor was editor emeritus of this newspaper. He always insisted that we should have been the RICHMOND PROGRESS from the very first. Not that Lee was not an ardent booster for the Point. He was. And he lived over thirty years on this side.

But Lee never liked the idea of having this editor call our paper a "junior" one. It is, of course, in both format and circulation (750 subscribers, 2000 readers). "Your paper is as white and your ink just as black as any journal in this country. And it isn't how much you write but WHAT you write that counts." Old Lee used to say.

So ,with this issue we become in name what we have always been in spirit—Richmond's only weekly newspaper with an honest desire to live up to our responsibilities as the RICHMOND PROGRESS.

Never yet have we gotten out an issue that half-way satisfied us, probably never will.

(By the way, when we say "WE" on this paper we mean Me and Tommie and Katherine and Tania and Carl and George and Steve and Gene and Gus and Bill and Barney and Angelo and Elmar and Frankie and Tony and Dick and—well, if there ever was a newspaper made up of the warp and woof of America, this is it—the' of course Old Harry takes the credit and the blame —AND the libel suits ,if any).

Yep, she's a great old bus this PROGRESS, and we are goin' to make her and the city she represents in the weekly field, something to remember in the Good Old U. S. A.

Never yet have we gotten out an edition that half-way satisfied us, probably never will. But we have ideas to make this sheet into a periodical covering the vital news in Richmond each week as we cover the world news in our syndicated service each week on page two.

What'll you bet we don't do it?

(P.S.—Hey there! We've gone and done it, already. We didn't put down Mattie and Elsie and Rose and Winifred, but we kind o' guess that everybody knows now that we do appreciate every bit of help and encouragement we get and, God willing, we'll continue to publish this paper for a good long time to come.

GERMAN PICNIC SUNDAY

Everybody who can possibly do so should plan to attend the 25th Anniversary Celebration of Richmond Lodge of Hermann Sons at Alvarado Park next Sunday. The Richmond Municipal Band will play a fine concert in the afternoon; and there will be singing dancing and a general good entertainment— a fine time to be had by all.

Admission to the park is free and you will always regret it if you do not attend this splendid picnic.

STRIKE AT FORD PLANT

Latest news from the strike-front at the local Ford plant indicates that the local situation will be cleared up shortly.

It would seem that the machinist's union of the AFofL are to desist from competing with their fellow workingmen in the CIO, so that the company and the men can get down to brass tacks and iron out their differences.

Then everybody can get back to work and the pay checks will roll in once more, and everybody will be happy.

Federal Government Issues the Specifications for Building Here

CLOSING DATE IS JULY 7th

Ten Year Lease to be Given Beginning Sep. 1, 1937

Of great interest to Point Richmond folk this week is the announcement of Postmaster L. J. Thomas that bids are being solicited for suitable quarters for a branch postoffice here.

This is the result of the activity of the Point Richmond Citizens Committee organized some months ago, representing the people of this community, who went to the bat and saved our local branch station for this side of town. We were fortunate in obtaining the recommendation of Postmaster Thomas to retain the branch postoffice here ,and Washington authorities concurred in his recommendation.

Specifications Stated

Specifications for the new office building require a floor space of about 750 square feet, a central location, good daylight, and accessability to rear or side entrance for the mails.

General building requirements with equipment specifications and form of proposal together with information concerning the provisions of the lease may be obtained from Postoffice Inspector W. H. Hudson, Room 326, Postoffice Bldg., San Francisco.

Whether the Point Richmond Citizens Committee will take further action in the matter could not be determined at the time of going to press. Chairman Gust. Allyn has been so busy getting himself elected to the high school board there has been no time for a meeting.

Other members of the committee include Alexander Elsie, Thomes Kenny, Mrs. Mary McDuff, Walter C. Pasach, Arthur E. Whiteside, and Harry R. Burt.

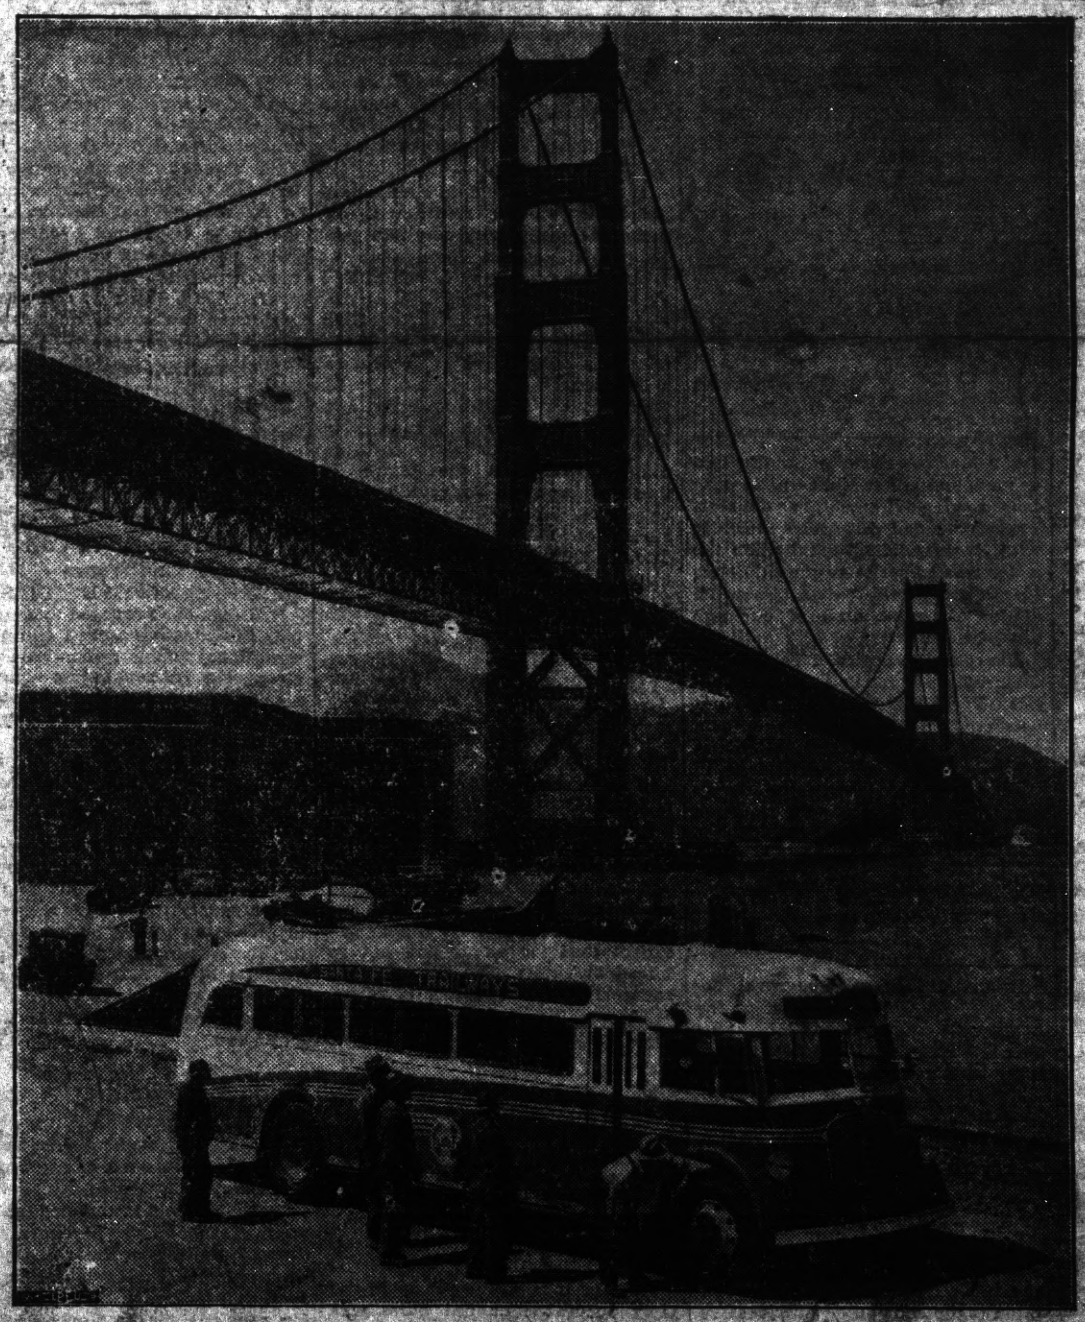
A New Building?

It would be nice if we could arrange to have our own postoffice building, though it is possible that buildings now built here may be arranged to conform with the specifications. At any rate it is pleasing to note that the Point saved its branch post-office.

SUNDAY PARADES

Some criticism has been voiced to the PROGRESS anent a proposed plan of the Junior C. of C. to hold their 4th of July parade on Sunday morning. There are certain parades that necessarily must be held on Sunday, such as the Hermann Sons next Sunday morning, but our advisors feel that with the Fourth being legally celebrated on the Fifth this year, the logical day for the big parade would be on Monday rather than on the Sabbath.

The Junior C. of C. has been 100 per cent; and it is understood that this comment is made in the line of friendly criticism.



Fort Winfield Scott, once Mighty Master of the Golden Gate, today fades into insignificance in the giant shadows of the world's greatest bridge. The old Fort, started 1854, completed 1861, dismantled 1880, cost $2,000,000; 164 guns bristling from its walls of brick, guarded the Golden Gate. In its day, one of the Wonders of the West, today it is but a Symbol of the Past: of the days of Sailing Ships and Pioneers.

High over the old Fort, men have flung a spider web of steel; the world's largest and most magnificent single span suspension bridge. Twenty years ago, the Golden Gate Bridge was a visionary's dream—today, an actuality.

The main span, 4,200 feet long; the deck at center, 206 feet above high water; length of entire project 2¾ miles, including approach viaducts. Height of towers, 746 feet above water level. The two 36½ inch cables, largest ever spun, required 80,000 miles of wire, weigh 22,000 tons, are held at their anchorage ends by 128,000,000 pounds of concrete.

Excavations, principally of rock, amounted to 953,000 cubic yards, equal to volume of material removed from a shaft 10 feet square and 25 miles deep. The structure cost $35,000,000, required approximately 4 years to build.

Review of the History-Making Events of the World

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

Justice Van Devanter to Quit the Bench

WILLIS VAN DEVANTER, associate justice of the Supreme court, informed President Roosevelt that he would retire from active service on that tribunal on June 2. He conveyed the information in a letter sent to the White House shortly before the senate judiciary committee was to vote on the President's bill for enlargement of the Supreme court.

Justice Van Devanter, who is seventy-eight years old, has been one of the so-called conservative group on the Supreme court bench.

Edward and Wallis to Marry on June 3

EDWARD, duke of Windsor and former king of Great Britain, and Mrs. Wallis Warfield are to be married on June 3 at the Chateau de Cande. This was announced in London. In the controversy between the government and the duke, who was backed up by his brother, King George, and their mother, concerning official recognition of the marriage, the government seemed to have won. It was understand the wedding would be extremely private and that no member of the royal family would be present. There will be only a few guests in addition to the witnesses and the servants. Lieutenant Forwood, the duke's equerry, carried to Buckingham palace information of the duke's final plans. He also invited London Daily Mail and London Daily Express to send reporters to the wedding. These papers have been most friendly to Edward and Mrs. Warfield.

President Insistent on His Complete Program

IN CONFERENCES with Democratic congressional leaders and department heads, President Roosevelt was insistent on the carrying out of his program without any compromises. He made it clear that he still demanded passage of his bill for enlargement of the Supreme court as it was submitted and that he would not be satisfied with fewer than six new associate justices, although his advisers told him frankly that the measure in this form faced probable defeat in the senate.

President Roosevelt

Mr. Roosevelt also demanded the following legislative action:

A substitute for the outlawed NRA, covering minimum wages and maximum hours, child labor, and the regulation of industrial trade practices.

An appropriation of 1 billion 500 million dollars for work relief in the 1938 fiscal year.

A start on farm tenancy legislation, providing federal loans for sharecroppers and other tenant farmers with which to purchase their own land.

The declaration by congress of an integrated, national power, flood control, and navigation policy, contemplating the ultimate development of the nation into eight regional TVAs.

As for economy measures, the President rejected the senate plan calling for a mandatory horizontal slash of 10 per cent in all appropriation bills and indicated a preference for the house plan, which would give him discretionary power to reduce all appropriations by 15 per cent.

The house appropriations committee already had yielded in the matter of the work relief appropriation, making it a billion and a half. A brigade of fifty women organized by the Workers' Alliance of America gathered in Washington to demand that congress appropriate $3,000,000,000 for relief in 1938, and will sit in the house gallery during the debate.

Process Tax Refund Case Won by Government

NO DECISIONS involving the constitutionality of the social security act were handed down by the Supreme court, but that tribunal did give an opinion that upheld the provisions of the 1936 revenue law restricting refunds of processing and floor stock taxes illegally imposed by the agricultural adjustment act. The treasury was saved nearly a billion dollars by this decision.

"While the taxpayer was undoubtedly hurt when he paid the tax, if he has obtained relief through the shifting of its burden he is no longer in a position to claim an actual injury and the refusal of a refund in such a case cannot be regarded as a denial of constitutional right," said the opinion.

Another decision upheld the chain store tax law enacted by the Louisiana legislature at the order of the late Huey Long, the court holding that states may tax chain stores on the basis of the number of units in the chain outside as well as inside the state.

Viscount Snowden, British Labor Leader, Is Dead

PHILIP SNOWDEN, who in his active days was regarded as the brainiest man in the Labor party of Great Britain, died of heart disease at the age of seventy-two. Twice he served as chancellor of the exchequer, and then was elevated to the peerage as Viscount Snowden of Ickornshaw. Lord Snowden had been crippled since he was twenty-seven, when he was knocked from a bicycle. He was a pacifist, an atheist and a Marxian Socialist, and he had a vitriolic tongue that made him feared in parliamentary debates. Though he had disagreed violently with Ramsay MacDonald when the latter was Laborite prime minister, MacDonald said when Snowden died: "A great man of our age has passed by."

Viscount Snowden

Heart disease also carried off a picturesque figure in American politics, Percy L. Gassoway, former cowpuncher who served one term as congressman from Oklahoma after being a judge in that state. In Washington he always wore exaggerated cowboy garments and kept things lively in the house by his bitter warfare against the late Huey Long of Louisiana.

"Inconsistency" Is Cry of the Economists

ECONOMISTS in congress denounced what they termed the "appalling inconsistency" of the majority, but the spenders went right ahead with their spending plans. The house passed the $115,000,000 appropriation bill for the Department of the Interior, which measure carries $40,000,000 for the reclamation bureau to be used for the building of dams and reservoirs to increase the acreage of tillable land. At the same time the house agriculture committee introduced a new farm bill, the main object of which is the controlling of excessive farm surpluses and which calls for the expenditure of $287,000,000 annually. This latter bill is based on the recommendations of Secretary Wallace's farm conference of February but it was declared it did not as yet have the full sanction of the administration.

Al Smith Sails for His First Visit to Ireland

NOTWITHSTANDING his certainty that he would be seasick, Alfred E. Smith sailed on the steamship Conte di Savoia for his first ocean voyage and first trip to the old country. As he departed, Al said: "This is a regular pleasure trip. I've never been to the other side and I'm going now, and I want to have a good time. Ireland? Yes, I'm going to Ireland. A priest wrote me that he knew where my grandmother's house was in Westmeath, and I'm going there and look it over. I have no relatives there, but I want to look over Ireland."

Steel Industry Tackled by Lewis' C. I. O.

PHILIP MURRAY, chairman of the steel workers' organizing committee of the C. I. O., called the first major strike in the campaign of Lewis and his associates to unionize the steel industry. On his order the employees of Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation plants in Pittsburgh and Aliquippa walked out after Murray had failed to get from the company a signed collective bargaining contract. The strike call affected 27,000 men. Thousands of pickets surrounded the Jones & Laughlin mills and kept non-union workers from entering.

Philip Murray

Next day the strike spread to the plants of the Pittsburgh Steel company at Monessen and Allenport, Pa., where 5,900 men went out. Murray said it was inevitable that the Republic, Youngstown, Bethlehem and Crucible steel concerns would be involved very soon.

The Jones & Laughlin corporation agreed to sign a contract if the union won a majority vote in a government-supervised election.

The sixteen leading hotels of San Francisco were closed by a strike, and so were some of the hotels in Los Angeles and Hollywood. In St. Louis the hotels gave in to strikers and granted a "closed shop."

Employees of Fisher Body and Chevrolet in Detroit returned to work pending a conference with the management; but the plants of those concerns in Janesville, Wis., were closed by a dispute over the status of 14 non-union workers. Their plants in Flint and Saginaw also were shut down, as was the Fisher Body plant in Cleveland.

Treasury's Silver to Be Stored Near West Point

ANNOUNCEMENT was made by the Treasury department that approval had been obtained from the secretary of war for the use of a four acre tract near West Point, N. Y., for a depository to store silver.

The treasury's 1936 building plan contemplated the expenditure of $600,000 on the depository. It will be similar in some respects to the gold depository at Fort Knox, Ky., except that the silver will not be stored in vaults. The capacity has been estimated at 70 tons of silver.

Danish King's Silver Jubilee Celebrated

CHRISTIAN X, king of Denmark, and all his subjects celebrated the monarch's silver jubilee in Copenhagen and throughout the kingdom. The festivities were marked by characteristic simplicity but clearly demonstrated the affection the people have for the tall sixty-six-year-old ruler who has been on the throne for twenty-five years. In the gaily decorated capital there was a joint session of parliament, a reception at the palace, a procession through the streets, and a gala dinner and a torchlight parade. Kings Haakon of Norway and Gustav of Sweden were among the notables present.

No Exports of Helium for Military Purposes

IN RESPONSE to the recent request of a foreign government, reported to be France, the administration has taken the position that it will not permit the export of helium for military purposes abroad.

The request was for a very large amount of the gas, presumably for a large airship, and investigation convinced officials in Washington that the nation asking it was planning no such commercial service as was performed by the German government with the ill-fated Hindenburg.

Mussolini Says Italy Must Be Self-Sufficient

MEMBERS of Italy's corporative guild, which includes all phases of Fascist life, held their annual meeting in Rome and loudly cheered Premier Mussolini when he declared that Italy will make herself self-sufficient economically even if she "has to work 25 hours a day." Il Duce asserted his program was a guarantee of peace and a surety of "the life, the future and the power" of the Italian people. He continued:

"For us it is impossible in a world armed to the teeth to abandon such a policy. It would mean putting ourselves tomorrow, in case of war, at the mercy of those who have all and who can make war without limitation of time or consumption.

"Fascism does not wish to absorb the economic life of the people, because Fascism doesn't wish to become paralytic as happens under bolshevism."

House Refuses to Make the CCC Permanent

"REMEMBER, this is the President's pet project. He wants the CCC made permanent, not extended for a two year period."

So shouted Representative William P. Connery of Massachusetts at the members of the house. But the house would not heed the implied warning and voted, 224 to 34, in favor of giving the CCC two more years of life. This was in committee of the whole, and next day this action was confirmed.

The senate, forgetting all about economy, approved, 46 to 29, an amendment to the second deficiency appropriation bill which commits the government to the expenditure of 112 millions on a new Tennessee river dam at Gilbertsville, Ky.

Wants President to Call Monetary Conference

REPRESENTATIVE DIES of Texas has proposed to congress that President Roosevelt call an international monetary conference for the purpose of seeking an equitable distribution of the world's supply of gold and silver. Specifically, he would have the conference:

1. Stabilize currencies on some permanent basis that would prevent wide fluctuations in their purchasing power.

2. Establish a bimetallic—gold and silver—base for the currencies.

3. Distribute the world's gold and silver supply more equitably so as to give each nation proper support for its currency and an adequate medium of international exchange.

4. Make available to the countries involved the raw materials which they need.

May Amend Railway Retirement Act

TO SETTLE the long pension controversy between railroad operators and their employees, a compromise bill was introduced by Senator Wagner and Representative Crosser amending the railway retirement act. Fundamental concessions to workers include eligibility for pensions for employees absent on account of sickness, increases in death benefits, and authority to include prior service in calculating length of service upon which annuities are based.

Striking Movie Workers to Picket Theaters

TECHNICAL workers in the movie industry at Hollywood were disappointed when the screen actors' guild, settling its own troubles with the producers, refused to support their strike. But the C. I. O. took up their cause, assured them of active support and promised to place 340,000 men on picket duty in important cities throughout the country. At least, that is the assertion of Charles E. Lessing, head of the striking unions.

Lessing said the film boycott would be directed at theaters in industrial areas where unions are strong. He selected New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Minneapolis and St. Paul as key cities for picketing.

New Method Proposed to Impeach Federal Judges

REPRESENTATIVE HATTON W. SUMNERS of Texas has introduced, and the house judiciary committee has approved, a bill offering an alternative method of impeaching federal district judges, providing that they may be tried by a court composed of three United States court of appeal judges to be designated by the Supreme court.

The bill does not seek to change the present method of impeachment, as regards Circuit court of appeals judges or members of the Supreme court, which in case of impeachment, are tried by the United States senate and prosecuted by managers from the house.

Under the terms of the measure the house still must vote the impeachment charges, and the present method of trial by the senate is not entirely discarded if congress desires to employ it. If a district judge were tried by the court, the attorney general, not the house, would prosecute the case and there would be no appeal.

Ambassador Dodd Hears of American Fascist Plan

WILLIAM E. DODD, American ambassador to Germany, has stepped into the limelight and the result may be embarrassing to him and to the administration. In a long letter to Senators Buckley of Ohio and Glass of Virginia he urges all Democrats to unite in support of the President and thus avert a dictatorship in the United States. It was assumed he meant the President's Supreme court enlargement bill should be supported, since that is the measure that split the party in congress. Dodd, former professor in the University of Chicago, said he had been told by certain friends that an American, not named, "who owns nearly a billion dollars," was prepared to set up a fascist regime which presumably he would control. There are not many American billionaires now, but no one has ventured to guess publicly the man Dodd has in mind.

Ambassador W. E. Dodd

"There are individuals of great wealth who wish a dictatorship and are ready to help a Huey Long," he wrote. "There are politicians, some in the senate, I have heard, who think they may come into power like that of the European dictators in Moscow, Berlin, and Rome."

Congressional leaders were quick to take up Dodd's assertion, Senator Borah of Idaho leading off with the declaration that the ambassador was an irresponsible scandal monger and a disgrace to his country. "I have an idea," said Borah, "that his supposed dictatorship is the figment of a diseased brain." Senator Gerald Nye of North Dakota, radical, introduced a resolution calling upon the State department to demand that Dodd name the billionaire in question.

In the house Representative Fish of New York denounced Dodd, and demanded that he be recalled.

This reaction in Washington led Ambassador Dodd to amplify his warning by a prepared statement cautioning against perils which would result from defeat of President Roosevelt's recovery program and reiterating the assertion that Americans of great wealth are looking toward Fascist rule; but he still disclosed no identities.

Women' Westside Improvement Association to Install Officers

Next Monday, June 7th, is the time; and the Hotel Mac, Corner of Washington and Cottage avenues, in Point Richmond, is the place—and the occasion is the Annual Luncheon of the Women's West Side Improvement Association.

The officers for the ensuing year will be installed. President will be the very popular Mrs. J. C. Eaton. She has long been one of the mainstays of the very efficient organization that has done so much for Point Richmond and the members are looking forward to a successful year to come.

Resevations for the luncheon in the beautiful dining room o. the Hotel Mac must be made before the end of this week from Mrs. Charles Ceridono who is the retiring president. She has been president for two years.

Mrs. Michael Fischer fell in her yard the other day and sustained painful injuries to her knee. At this time we are glad to learn she is much improved.

Mrs. Paul Dunlap who has been confined at the home of her sister, Mrs. Emily Axtell, for several weeks is steadily improving. Mrs. Dunlap sustained a serious injury to her hip several days ago when she fell in her bathroom. Her present illness is due to the old injury.

A dessert luncheon was served to a few friends by Mrs. R. W. Jenkins last week at her home on West Richmond avenue. After the luncheon prizes were awarded for high scores to Mrs. Louise Jenkins ,Mrs. Leroy Alexander ,and Mrs. A. C. Cramer.

Mrs. H. N. Palmateer who recently underwent a major operation in the Humboldt Hospital is recuperating nicely at her home on West Richmond avenue.

Mrs. Mae Wade who has been confined to her home for some time with pneumonia has recovered sufficiently to be removed to the home of her daughter in Antioch where she will make her permanent home in the hope that the mild climate will be of benefit to her health.

POINT CHAPTER

Point Chapter, O. E. S. held its regular meeting Thursday evening with Worthy Matron Olga Lee and her husband the Worthy Patron Philip Lee in the chairs. The annual memorial service was held for the departed Grand Officer but fortunately no member had been taken by death from Point Chapter during the past year.

After the business session Mrs. Arthur Cramer, Mrs. Irene Mythen, Mrs. Hunana Thompson, and Mrs. Jeanette Bottom served refreshments in the Banquet Hall.

Mrs. Clifton Bradley entertain the Ladies Aid of the First M.E. Church at her home on the Bay Shore this afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Lucas left last week for an extended trip to Seattle and vicinity. The marriage of Mrs. Lucas' niece, Miss Georgia Clarke who has visited many times in Point Richmond is the occasion for the journey at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brooker and small daughter left last week for their new home in Topeka, Kansas, where Mr. Brooker will be employed by the Santa Fe in an important capacity. Mrs. Brooker was the former Nellie Coward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Coward of Terrace avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Layton Deutsch who have been visiting their aunt, Miss Katherine McCracken on Western Drive left Tuesday morning on the return trip to Detroit, Michigan. The expect to be in the City of the Straits about the 6th or 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. John Downey expect to move into the residence vacated by Edgar Brooker. Now houses are so scarce in Point Richmond that one has to wait for a neighbor to move outin order to get a house. eIn this case the popular Deputy County Clerk Walter C Paasch and his family move into the Downey house and the Downeys move in to the domicile vacated by the Brokers.

Western Drive seemed to be popular with the Churches today as Mrs. Samuel Janes entertain her Aid, which is that of the Point Baptist, this afternoon.

Stop Striking Matches . . . and waiting for water to heat

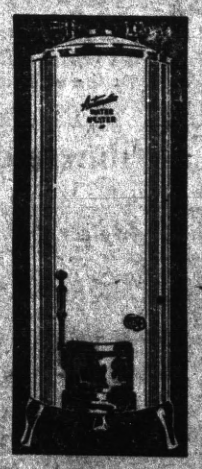
Use a Modern Automatic Gas
WATER HEATER

OF COURSE it isn't the mere striking of matches that makes the old-fashioned tank type of water heater such a nuisance. It is because someone always has to light the heater. It is because someone always has to wait for the water to heat. Someone has always to remember to turn off the water heater.

With an Automatic Gas water heater all this is different. You turn on hot water at the faucet. You learn to take its service for granted, a part of the modern living you enjoy. The first month of service is always a revelation; you wonder how you ever put up with any other kind of hot water service in your home.

For only an Automatic keeps an abundant supply of water stored hot ready for service at the turn of a faucet. There is no starting or stopping for anyone to remember. It is quiet, dependable, absolutely carefree. And all this for less cost per gallon of hot water than you pay for your present unsatisfactory hot water service.



Judge this automatic service of hot water in your home for yourself; go and see the new Automatic Gas water heaters on display in the nearest P. G. and E. office or at your dealer's store.

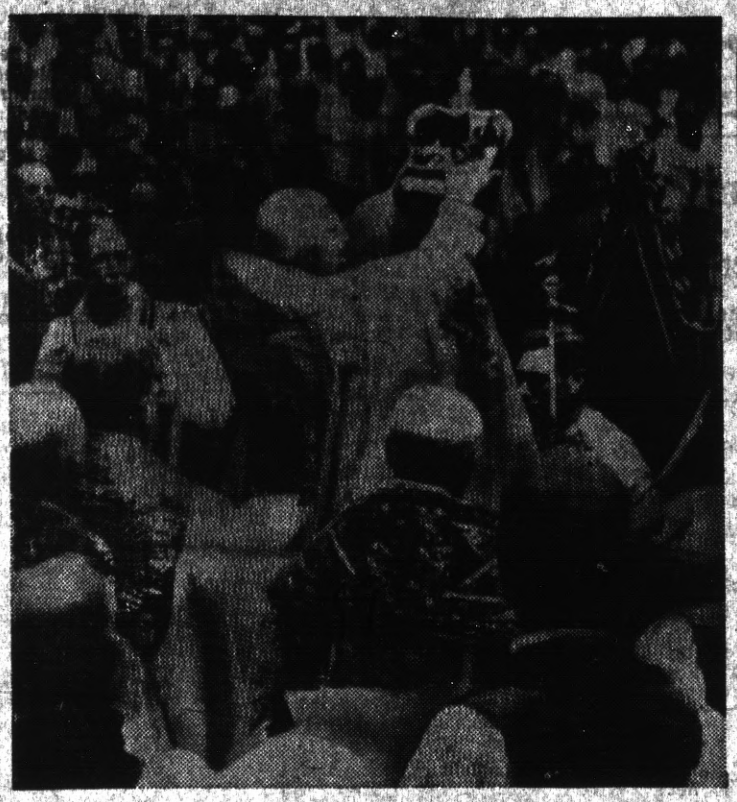
George VI Is Crowned



London.—In the climax of the coronation ceremony, the archbishop of Canterbury places the Crown of Edward the Confessor upon the head of George VI, his hands trembling with emotion. So heavy is the crown, it could be allowed to rest only a moment on the king's head.

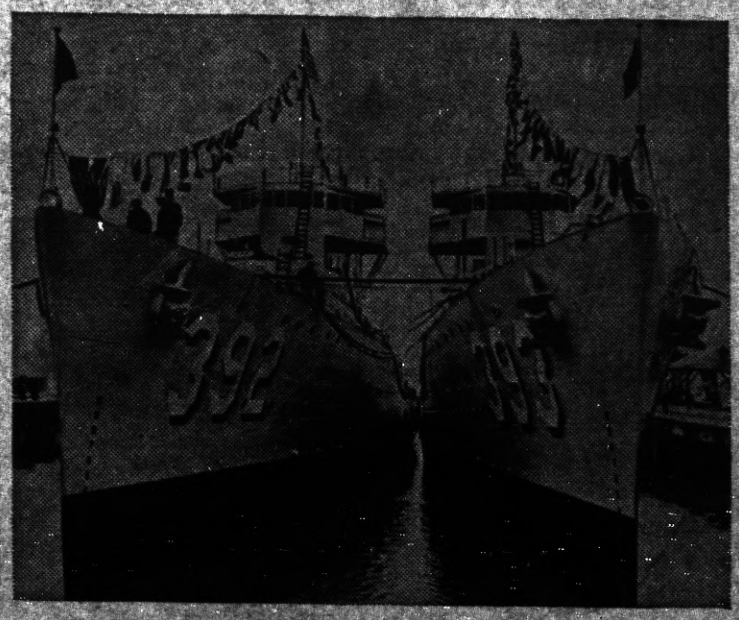
New Twins Ready to Join Navy Family



Uncle Sam's two newest twin destroyers, the Patterson and Jarvis, are shown floating serenely in the drydock at Bremerton, Wash., before they joined their big family of sisters on the bounding main. Lucky Lad Thinks Yankee Bench Is Best Ball School

(Tom Henrich, twenty-year-old Yankee rookie qualifies as Hugh Bradley's guest columnist this week and as the luckiest lad in the world because Judge Landis ruled him a free agent and entitled to sell his services to the highest bidder. He tells a few of his experiences with the Yankees.)

By TOM HENRICH

THREE years in professional ball, declared a free agent by Judge Landis and selling myself to the World Champion Yankees for more money than I ever thought was in the world before—it's still all a little bewildering to a small-town boy.

I guess I couldn't understand any of it at first. First off, I belonged to Cleveland. Then I read in a Montreal paper during the winter meetings that Milwaukee had bought me direct from New Orleans. But Judge Landis cleared a whole lot up for me. He's the first real judge I'd ever met.

I just wanted my case clarified. I wanted to find out if everything was on the up-and-up, have the baseball law of it explained to me. If you can't get a square deal in this game, Tom, I told myself—and I meant it, too—there's no use going on playing it.

Judge Landis was fine about it. He didn't try to bulldoze me or trap me into any admissions. He simply wanted the truth, and make believe he didn't get it! Well, I was declared a free agent on the first of April, All Fools' Day. I was too excited to attach any significance to the date. And as it's turned out, the joke hasn't exactly been on me.

When I arrived home in Massillon there were a couple of telegrams awaiting me, and in three days I'd had eight major league offers, four from each league. Perhaps I'd better not say what they were. I weighed 'em all before accepting the Yan[illegible]d.

Millionaire John Hertz doesn't seem to care who knows how sore he is about rumors that the Illinois Racing commission will favor Washington Park over his Arlington Park in the assignment of dates this year. . . Wilcey Moore, former Yankee sinker ball pitcher, still has a span of mules called Babe and Ruth which he won from the home run king his first year on the club. . . Babe bet Moore that he wouldn't make three hits during the season. . . . He made four. . . Moore is a gentleman farmer at Hollis, Okla., in the winter. . . He is with the Kansas City Blues this season. . . Stan Laurel, the movie comedian, interrupted a vacation cruise to stop in Cuba and watch the New York Giants work out . . Benevolent citizens of Auburn, Wash., are caring for Amos Rusie, old New York Giant pitching star, and his wife, who were dispossessed recently when a mortgage was foreclosed on their farm.

Movies Will Finish Morris' Track Career

Olympic champ Glenn Morris is through so far as amateur track is concerned if he persists in his movie career, according to one of the most eminent A. A. U. officials. Glenn is said to have been ready to take a fling at boxing before he got that Tarzan contract. Incidentally, old-time pugs now doing bits in flickers include Jack Perry, Pittsburgh welterweight; Joe Glick, famed Brooklyn buttonhole maker; Bing Conley, middleweight; Georgie Levine, Brownsville welterweight; Frank Moran, old-time heavyweight, and too many more to be mentioned.

POSTURE and CARRIAGE

Easy graceful movements are an expression of a harmonious and well balanced personality.

Since the first condition necessary to happiness is good health each of us should have a fundamental knowledge of our own body . . this complicated machine that ought to be elastic and sound through life . . a scientific understanding of what it consists and the muscular education that maintains it.

Important as it is to eat and breathe correctly . . it is equally important to carry one's body correctly whether sitting . . . standing . . walking or working. Unfortunately we do not do these things correctly automatically . . due in part to high heels and ill-fitting corsets or girdles among other things.

An abused body in this sense may develop faults which lead to the internal organs suffering . . which in turn causes our health and looks to suffer also . . not to mention the flabbiness and fat due to insufficient and incorrect use of the muscles . . which produce our double chins . . sagging abdomens and other abnormalities.

Incorrect positions and postures bring about a displacement of the center of gravity. This must be corrected so as to enable the proper muscles to be put to work.

Though I feel that all exercises should be done under the direction of a teacher for most satisfactory results . . it is possible for the individual who will carefully follow directions to gain considerable good . . therefore I am giving two important exercises for health and beauty as well in next week's issue.
